Mahiyanganaya

Mahiyanganaya is situated in Uva Province which is associated with many historical legends. It is said that king Ravana kidnapped Princess Seetha and held her captive in this area. Ravana Ella and Seetha Eliya and many other places were named after the legend of Ravana. According to Mahawanshaya, God Sumana lived in this area in the 6th century B.C. and it is said that Gauthma Buddha's first visit to Sri Lanka was Mahiyanganaya. Legend says that God Sumana built Mahiyangana Stupa by enshrining Lord Buddha's hair relic. The circuit bungalow is built nearly on one acre of land near Mahiyangana Maha Viharaya with a beautiful background.
